

The broadcasting services in this country are owned and controlled by too few companies now! It will only become worse if you relax the ownership rules. Now is not the time to relax the ownership rules. These airwaves belong to the people of the United States, NO AOL/FOX/Clear Channel/ or any other of the large media conglomerates. Not only that but the proposed changes will cause a reduction in jobs, not something we want to do in today's economy/